1. Job Advertisement - Technical University Denmark (DTU)

The Department of Civil Engineering invites applications for 2 or 3 positions as Associate or Assistant Professor as part of a strategic reinforcement of the research and teaching activities in the Section for Structural Engineering. The section wishes to strengthen its expertise in design of metal and/or wood structures within areas such as experimental, computational, analytical modelling and analysis. In addition to this the section also wishes to strengthen the areas of probabilistic modelling and decision analysis related to civil engineering structures. More..

2. Permanent Committee Meeting 2013

The Permanent Committee of IABSE will meet on September 24, 2013 in Kolkata, India. The Agenda will be available online on August 13, 2013, in the PermC Members Area. The complete list of Delegate and Alternate Delegates per country is published online: official list..

Updates or changes to this list must be communicated by the Chairs of the National Groups until August 30, 2013, and must be sent to Chep.Uytiepo@iabse.org

If you are attending the Annual Meetings, please make sure you have registered with the online form available in the Members Area. Here you can also check who attends which meeting by downloading the list of participants (updated weekly)

3. Structural Engineering International (SEI) August issue published

The SEI August issue (3/13) has been printed and sent to Members and Subscribers. All articles will soon be available online in electronic format. They will be accessible for IABSE Members via the IABSE Members Area here.. and for SEI Subscribers here..

Share your views!

We have posted the SEI article 'Decade Review: Bridge Type Selection and Challenges of Lupu Bridge' by Biao Ma, Yuanpei Lin, Junjie Zhang, Yan Xu, China, on IABSE's Facebook and LinkedIn Group discussion. We would be happy to hear from you! Login in at  or  and share with us your views about the article!

4. Assessment, Upgrading, Refurbishment and Conservation of Structures

The November issue of SEI is dedicated to the latest scientific advancements and professional activities in the field of 'Assessment, Upgrading, Refurbishments and Conservation of Infrastructures'. See the tentative list of articles written by leading experts and practitioners in the field here..

5. Entries Open in Two Million Dollar Sustainable Construction Competition

The International Holcim Awards is one of the most significant competitions in its field. The regional phase of the competition is now open for entries. It seeks leading projects from industry professionals and spirited ideas from the "Next Generation" that contribute to sustainability within architecture, building, civil engineering, landscape and urban design, as well as construction materials and technologies. This fourth cycle of the competition offers prize money of USD 2 million. Online registration is possible until March 24, 2014 at www.holcimawards.org
