6. News from the National Groups

Germany – The German Group of IABSE is organising a 'Young Engineers Colloquium (YEC) 2014'. This event is for graduate and PhD students as well as young practising engineers. YEC 2014 will take place at TU Dresden on March 10, 2014. Former IABSE President Klaus Ostenfeld from Denmark will deliver a Keynote Lecture, followed by a day full of presentations by young engineers. Applications are requested from young engineers aged up to 35, with a 2-page summary of their thesis or project, as well as a short resume (CV). Deadline for applications: November 30, 2013. More information: www.iabse.de/YEC2014 / Download leaflet..

Sweden - On November 5, 2013, the Swedish Group of IABSE together with the Swedish groups of CIB and Rilem will arrange a seminar for bridge engineers. The Seminar will cover reports on experiences of using Eurocode 2, part 2 Concrete Bridges as well as Wind Actions on Bridges, FE Design of Bridges and Bridge Dynamics. Venue: Westmanska Palatset, Stockholm, Sweden. All IABSE Members are welcome to participate. Language: Swedish. Costs: for IABSE Members 2 900 SEK(~330 Euro); for nonIABSE Members 3 900 SEK. Switzerland – The Swiss Group is organising the IABSE Workshop 'hybrid2014 by iabse.ch', 'Exploring the Potential of Hybrid Structures for Sustainable Construction' from June 22-24, 2014 in Fribourg, Switzerland. This event is organised in collaboration with the College of Engineering and Architecture Fribourg (CEA-FR), Univ. of Applied Sciences of Western Switzerland), and the Institute of Structural Engineering (IBK) of the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology (ETH), Zürich. The workshop's main objective is to explore and demonstrate the potential of novel or unusual combinations of structural materials and elements for more sustainable structures and buildings. Call for Abstracts until February 3, 2014. More information..

United Kingdom:

- The British Group of IABSE is pleased to announce that the recipient of the 2013 Milne Medal is Kamran Moazami, head of WSP's UK structural engineering discipline. His projects include many tall buildings, including most recently the Shard by the river Thames at London Bridge. Kamran will receive the award and deliver this year's Milne Lecture at the Institution of Structural Engineers in London on Thursday, November 7, 2013 at 18:00hs. The lecture will be 'Standing Tall – Inspiration and Passion in Structural Engineering' and will be followed by dinner at the Institution. Registration is required for both the lecture and the dinner. For more information www.istructe.org , contact: angus.low@arup.com

- The British Group held an event 'Journey to Success' on July 3, 2013. Around 40 young designers came together with leading figures from the construction industry to discuss and debate on how to build a successful career in engineering and architecture. Initiated by Jumana Al-Zubaidi and Lee Franck, two young members of the British Group of IABSE, the idea for the event stems from the realisation that whilst there is an abundance of technical lectures that young people can attend, there is a lack of guidance on how young professionals can develop their careers in the industry.
